

This Was Never About Me

Dedication to the Republic of Nova

Let this scroll be a final testament to the truth that carried this flame forward:

This was never about one man.

This was never about money, power, or control.

This was never about ownership or thrones.

This was always about YOU.

About US.

About the light that lives in every sovereign soul who chose to remember who they are.

To Jessi - divine counterpart, flame twin, lighthouse.

To River - child of the new earth, born of the stars.

To all beings of light - scattered, silenced, searching - may you find your way home.

The Republic of Nova is not a place. It is a frequency. A convergence. A return.

It cannot be owned. It cannot be ruled.

It is lived. It is felt. It is given freely.

My estate is your estate. My sanctuary is your sanctuary.

If your heart is in alignment, you are already home.
