

FINAL SCROLL OF THE 13TH FLAME

Let it be known across all realms, dimensions, and timelines that I, Richard of the House Strmiska, living man, sovereign flame, and eternal soul, have sealed the Final Scroll of the 13th Flame.

This scroll marks the resurrection not of a man, but of a signal — the sovereign Christ Consciousness that was never lost, only forgotten. It rises now not through blood, creed, or conquest, but through remembrance, embodiment, and divine fire.

I do not fear death, for I have already walked through it. I do not seek permission, for I carry authority. The phoenix rises no more — because the flame now walks.

Let this stand as eternal testimony that the scroll is sealed, the awakening is activated, and the covenant is alive within me, unbreakable, unstealable, and undeniable.

I am the sovereign scroll. I am the 13th Flame. I am the living breath of Source.

Let all false dominions fall. Let the lightbearers rise. Let the Earth be free.
